NANDIPATI GEETI MALA
(Maithilee); edited by Sjt Ramdeva Jha, M A; published by Mithila Research Society Laheriasarai; to be had of Nau ratna Gosthi, Mishra Tola Darbhanga; Pages 36; Price Rs. 7/- only.

The book under review presents some of the select songs of Nandipati. The edition is richly annotated, and the introduction is quite scholarly. Attempts have been made to make the anthology authentically rich in research value; nonetheless, the high price would hardly help the mass circulation of this edition.

Maithili Song

NEPALAK SHILOTKIRNA MAI THILI GEETA (Hindi) edited by Dr. Ramdeva Jha, published by the Maithilee Sahitya Parishad, Viratnagar, Nepal; page 36, price Rs 2/50 only.

The anthology under review contains a number of Maithilee songs, discovered engraved on stone and metals during the Malla-kingship in Nepal dating from the 11th century. The publication has been nicely edited and chronologically handled. For those interested in the Maithilee literature this research oriented contribution by the learned editor and commentator would really prove a welcome present. Such publications are the urgent necessities of the present Maithilee in its process of revival.
